DELHI TOWNSHIP FACTS

Delhi Township is a suburban community of 30,104 (2000 Census) residents in the southwestern part of Hamilton County, Ohio. Delhi was established in 1789 and was a rural community until just after World War II. The Township's motto, "The Floral Paradise of Ohio", dates from this earlier era when the Township's landscape was dotted with greenhouses. At one time these greenhouses were a major source of the nation's carnation stock. Since World War II, Delhi has experienced a transformation from a pastoral, agricultural community into a quiet bedroom community that emphasizes neighborhood and family.

Covering approximately 10.83 square miles, Delhi is predominantly bordered by Green Township to the north, the City of Cincinnati to the east and south, and Miami Township on the northwest boundary.

Delhi Township is a Home Rule Township governed by a three-member Board of Trustees. Trustees are elected on a staggered basis for a four year term. Delhi Township finances are overseen by the Fiscal Officer who is also elected to a four year term.

Be sure to visit the Township's website at www.delhi.oh.us, it's packed full of information and events happening all around the Township. You will be able to learn about the many programs and services the Township provides, and find ways to get more involved in your community and interact with your government.

PARKS

Delhi Springhouse

4162 Delhi Road

The Springhouse was originally built to protect a natural spring but also served several purposes. As Delhi Township grew, the Springhouse was used as a cold storage for perishable foods for travelers and local inhabitants. It also provided cold drinking water for weary travelers and their horses and served as a rudimentary form of air conditioning.

The award winning renovation of the Springhouse serves as a source of pride to the Delhi Township Community and a beautiful welcoming point into Delhi Township.
